

Foundation for International Education, London Scholarships 2018

The Foundation for International Education, a long-standing CCIS partner, has announced its 2018 semester and summer scholarships. FIE's announcement reflects both the Foundation and CCIS' objective to help students from diverse backgrounds study abroad.

FIE is offering $3,000 scholarships for 2018 semester programs and $1,000 for summer programs. CCIS students are eligible to apply for and receive FIE London scholarship. Learn more about the CCIS FIE program here.

Overview

- Semester scholarship deadlines are September 15, 2017 for spring and March 15, 2018 for fall
- The summer scholarship deadline is February 15, 2018
- Students apply directly through the FIE website
- Scholarship awards will be sent from FIE directly to the student in the form of a check.

Eligibility

- Students applying and accepted to study at FIE London starting Spring 2018
- Students who meet all requirements to study abroad at their home institution and the CCIS FIE program.

Application & Guidelines

- Students must complete the online FIE Scholarship application including the selection of one of three application routes; diversity and inclusivity, environmental responsibility, or charity.
- Students are to submit a cover letter, recommendation from a professor or academic advisor, and 750 to 1,000-word essay related to the route of his or her choosing

Award Requirements

- Awarded students will act as student leaders during their time in London. They will regularly meet with FIE staff and be assigned a mentor. Each student will develop a project that complements or enriches their study abroad experience.
- Students will submit a summary of their experience as a student leader at the end of the semester.
